EL CAMINO

MATT McDonald

To "Bones",

First of all I hope a gust of wind does not pick you up and smash you into a tree this summer. You should work on that trick, I mean jump shoot because it is not too effective just kidding. Play good in summer league, but do me a favor and don't drink. Thanks! Have a good summer.

P.S. Pull up your shorts next year.

see you tomorrow!

Few people personify the Christian Way of Life at Loyola as well as Miss Donna Wanland. In her tenth year of teaching theology, she remains dedicated to the Loyola student and her love for God. She exemplifies the compassion, warmth, and understanding for which the Loyola community strives. We proudly dedicate the 1984 volume of the El Camino to Miss Donna Wanland for her continuing contributions to Loyola life.

ONE HUNK-OF-A TRUCK!
AT DATSUN DEALERS

The Road, El Camino, depicts life at Loyola. Throughout four years we continue to struggle, to run, and sometimes stumble down this Road. The Freshman takes his first steps and glimpses the horizon. The sophomore faces continuation and further challenges. Maturity and growth confront the junior. And the senior embraces his crossroads with an understanding and wisdom nurtured over four long years. The Road is our beginning and our ending ... an endless horizon. El Camino- the road to scholarship, to comradery, to college, and to life, where all paths lead ...

THE PROSPECTIVE BLACK BUSINESSMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Prospective Black Businessmen's Association is a group of success-oriented young men. The organization attempts to foster and develop a sense of pride and consciousness of cultural identity and origin. The PBBA creates a learning atmosphere in which the many untold stories of black contribution are divulged. It also establishes a flame of enlightenment that radiates out to all members. In order to achieve its goal of a new knowledge and understanding, the PBBA hosts a series of guest speakers, films, and lectures. Each member is proud of who he is and realizes that he is emerging as a man of the future who will make a difference.

GEOLOGY/ PALEONTOLOGY SOCIETY

FOUNDED 1966

The Geology-Paleontology Society of Loyola High School, for eighteen years a rock solid institution on campus, is under the direction of Brother Robert McDermott. Our functions include the following:

- to conduct intense scientific work in the Earth Science laboratory every Friday after school
- to mount major expeditions into the vast expanses of Southern California and the entire Southwest
- to introduce our members to new developments and exciting opportunities in the growing field of geology and engineering-related areas
- to have fun while we study and enjoy this glorious and spectacular Earth that God has given man.

The Loyola Cubs varsity water-polo team finished the season with a strong 13-6 record. There were many impressive victories and although placing third in league, the championship was not decided until the final regular game of the season. The cubs also gained a CIF bid for the third straight year.

Placing third in league, matched the cubs with a first place team from another league. This team was John Muir High School of Pasadena. Loyola took Muir to overtime, but lost in a close ending by one goal.

There were many outstanding athletes and performances on this year's squad. Tomas Navarro, Chris Kruse, and Robert Bogucki were all named to the All-League second team. While Dirk ten-Grotenhuis, Mark Childs, and Josh Raymond were Varsity standouts also. The rest of the team contributed to this year's success, and there is much potential for next year's squad.

It was a season to remember! The Loyola High School football team, under head coach Steve Grady, had an excellent season this year. The Cubs were ranked 1st in the CIF, 1st in the state of California, and 8th in the nation at one time during the season. The Cubs 23-0 opener against St. Paul was an indication of great things to come. The following week the Cubs traveled to Palisades High to play Santa Monica. Even though the game was not a great team effort, the Cubs came out victorious, thanks to the swift running of quarterback Brendan McCracken. After decisively defeating Pius X and Redlands, the Cubs were ready for Del Rey League action. Beginning with our arch-rival, the St. Francis Golden Knights, the Cubs showed why they were number one in the CIF. The standouts in that game were Tim "Speedy" Gonzalez and Byron Gibson offensively, and Greg "Thunder" Thornton and John Costanzo defensively. During the next four week period the mighty Cubs showed that they were deserving of the league crown, which they soundly captured and took with them into the CIF Playoffs. The Cubs played Compton in the first round, and thanks to the aggressive performance of the offensive line, and the powerful running of Richard "Slick" Brown, the Cubs came out winners. But in the second round of the playoffs, the Cubs ran out of gas. A total of six turnovers, a tough Fountain Valley team, and a 44-yard field goal with five seconds remaining put the Cubs out of the race for the CIF Championship and a prestigious national championship. This season will always bring back memories to me. Even though we fell short of our CIF championship, I was pleased to be associated with this great bunch of character/athletes. Good luck to the classes of '85 and '86 next year; it will be their turn to leave their "mark" on the Loyola football program. Finally, I would like to congratulate my fellow seniors on a great season, and wish them luck in college. Thanks for the memories, and God Bless.

League Runnerup

With rebuilding behind them, Loyola's Cross Country team captured the Del Rey League Title and emerged as a definite future contender for the CIF Championship. The Varsity squad went undefeated under the leadership of Joe Nitti, Del Rey League Varsity Champion. The rest of the squad members consisted of Chris Nelson, Mitch Sloan, Gary Puhek, Wayne Nitti, Jack Henry, and David Henry. The junior Varsity squad, also League Champion and undefeated, was lead by Brian Shields, Terence Antonius, Dan Gentry, Dave Pola, and Ed Chambers. The Frosh-soph squad headed by Bryan Vert, Todd Robinson, Chancy Pratt, Marc Nemec, John Grubs, and Kevin Dee finished league respectably as runners-up. Coaches Jack Gallagher and Ed Castellanos have established a winning tradition which will continue for years to come.

VARSITY SOCCER

After a purely dismal season last year, the soccer team is beginning to come back. In fact, this year they missed the play-offs by only two points coming in a close fourth place in league. Under new head coach Burton Young, the Cubs applied a new system of play which was quite successful considering the limited time they had to practice it.

The team was led by First Team All Del Rey League Select Sean Dee who, along with Matt Thiel, controlled the center of the field. John Sullivan and Second Team Select Dennis Wedding handled most of the scoring with twenty goals between them. Second Team Select Derek Kurzenknabe, Mike Campbell, Jan Farrell, Mark McMillan, and Honorable Mention Select Tony Swan all worked well controlling the defensive side of the game. Martin Castillo and Honorable Mention Select Tom Gmelich also played major parts with Gmelich collecting a (record) total of ten yellow cards.

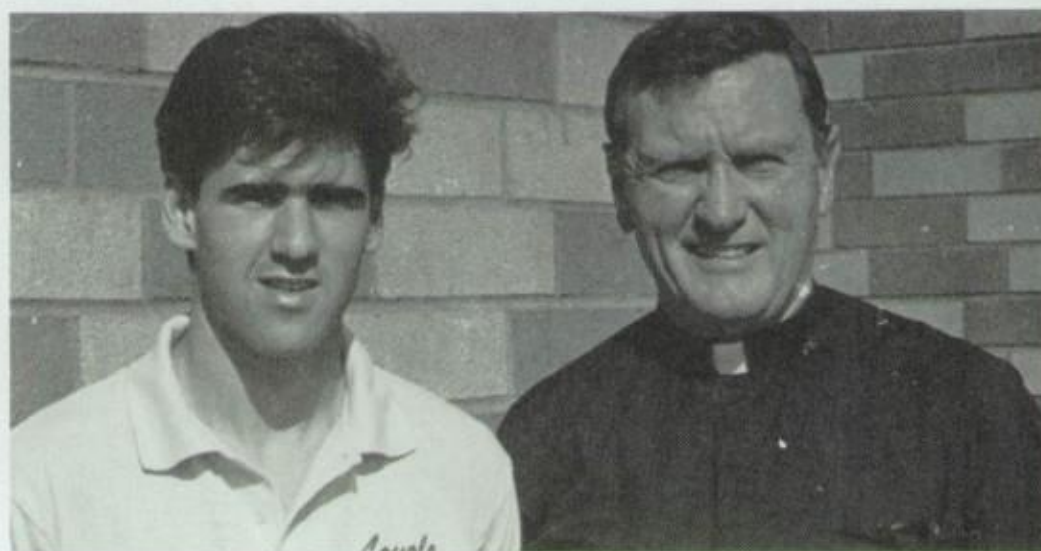

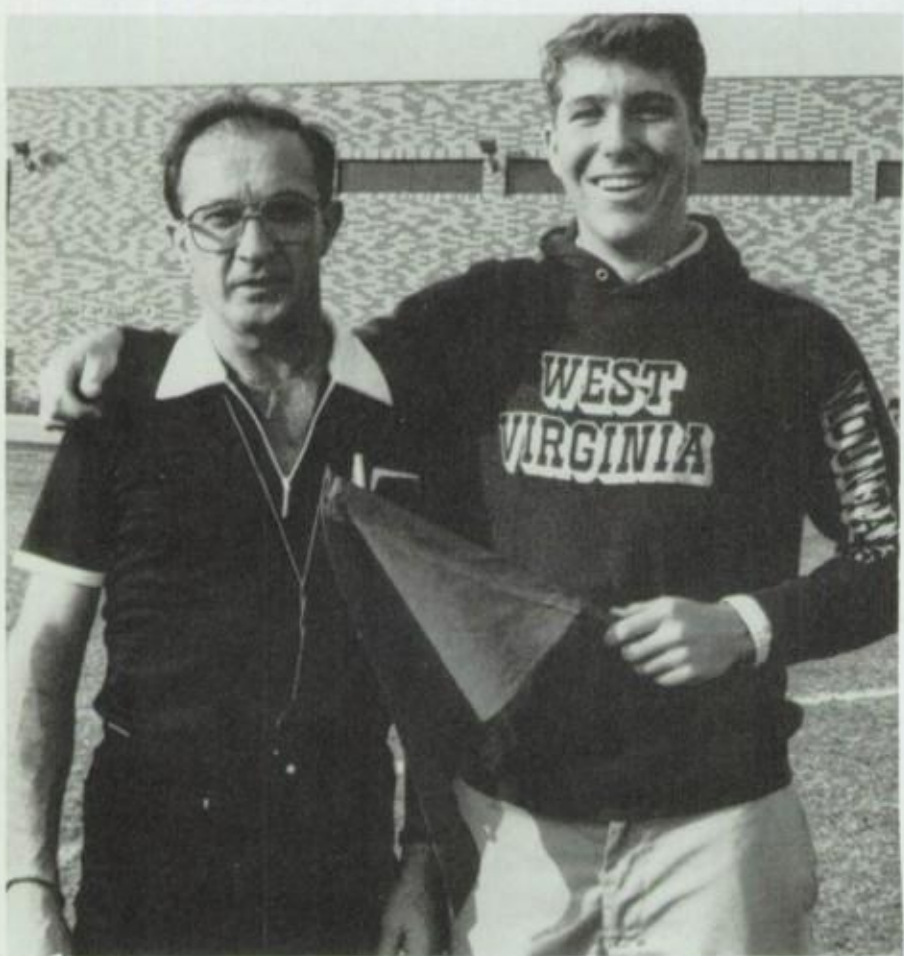

As always, the team would like to thank Fr. Conn, but also Peter Dolan, Chris Shaw, Bret Baldwin, Mr. O'Neill, S.J., and Mr. Buschelman for being such die-hard fans.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Loyola Basketball team, coached by Bill Thomason entered the 1983-84 basketball season with high expectations. The team returned three starters from the previous season: Gilbert Sainz, Sean Murphy, and Rhonnel Sotelo. The Cubs got off to a good start by soundly defeating arch rival Daniel Murphy, and the next week performed well in the Thousand Oaks Tournament, and the Jesuit Tournament in Sacramento. As the Cubs entered Del Rey league play, they were faced with a tough schedule. Three of the five teams in the league were ranked in the CIF top ten poll. Although the Cubs defeated the highly ranked Crespi team, with guard Mike Guzman scoring twenty points, it was too little and too late. The Cubs ended their league record with three wins, and nine losses. Though the team record was a disappointment, the fun and the comradery displayed by the team exemplified the Loyola Basketball program. Good luck to next years team!

SWIMMING AND DIVING

This years swim team is stocked with talent from the freshmen to senior classes. It promises to be a very productive year. Under the supervision of coaches Tim Coughlin and Carlos Dobal, the varsity looks unbeatable. Seniors John Cardenas, Mike Ryan, Tomas Navaro, Syd Vinnedge, and Josh Raymond lead the powerful varsity. Rounding up the team are power-houses Jim Cavataio, Mark Childs and Michael Fitzpatrick.

1984 saw the birth of the Loyola Diving Team. After many years of struggling for organization and recognition, the team managed to pull together. The team was led by 4-year varsity letterman Danny Dick who was Del Rey League Champion and placed 3rd in CIF 3A in 1983.

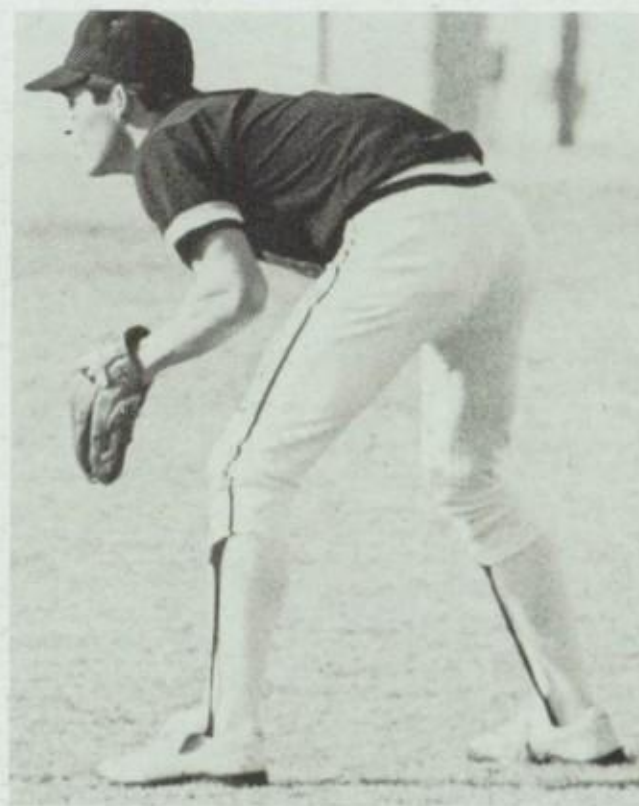

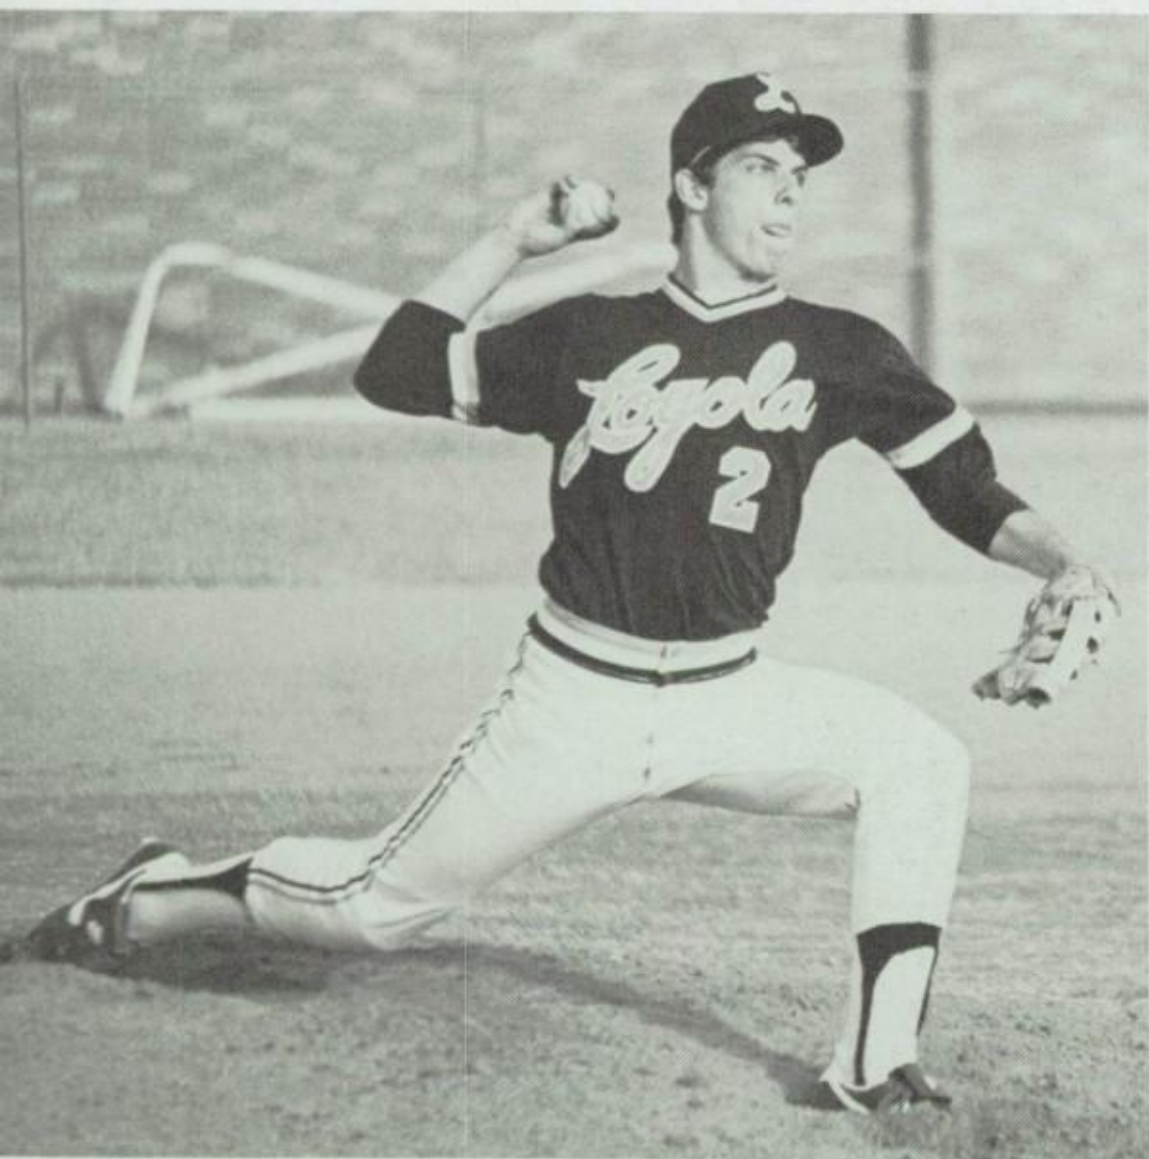

VARSITY BASEBALL

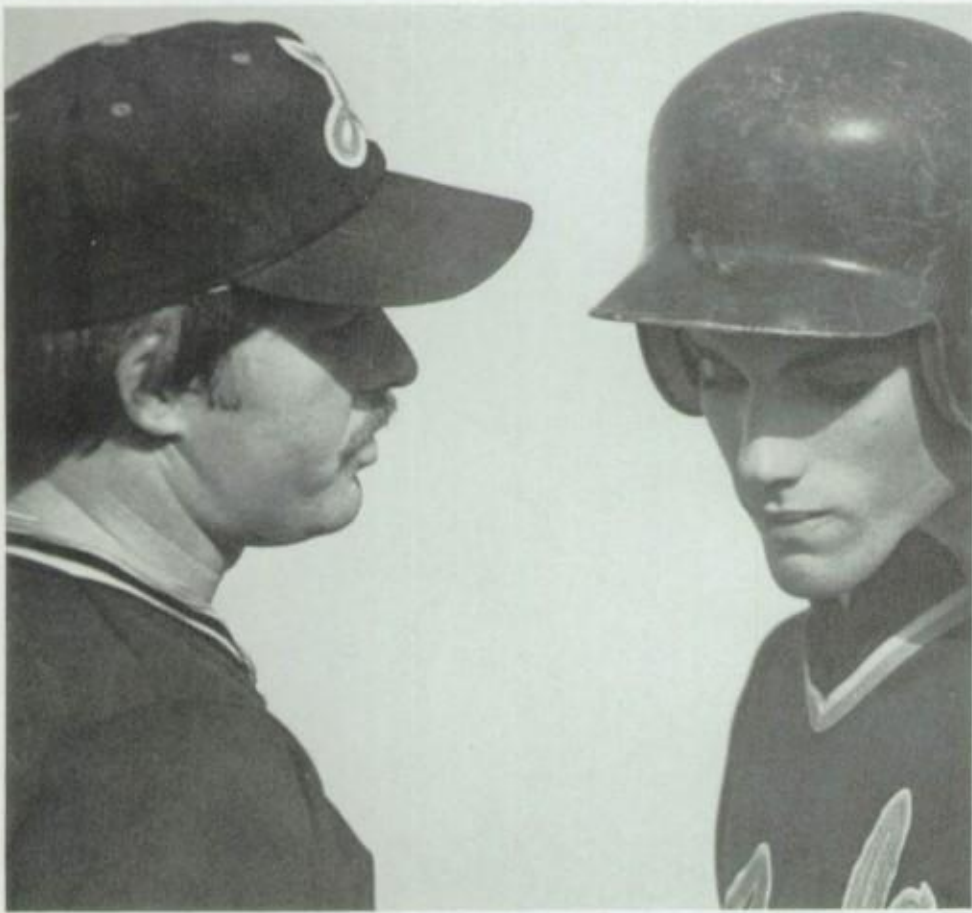

The 1984 version of the Varsity Baseball team possesses the potential and skill to do very well in the Del Rey League this season, possibly capturing the league crown from archrival Notre Dame, who won it last season. A combination of disciplined hitters and mentally prepared fielders has given the Cubs the confidence and power that they need to do the job.

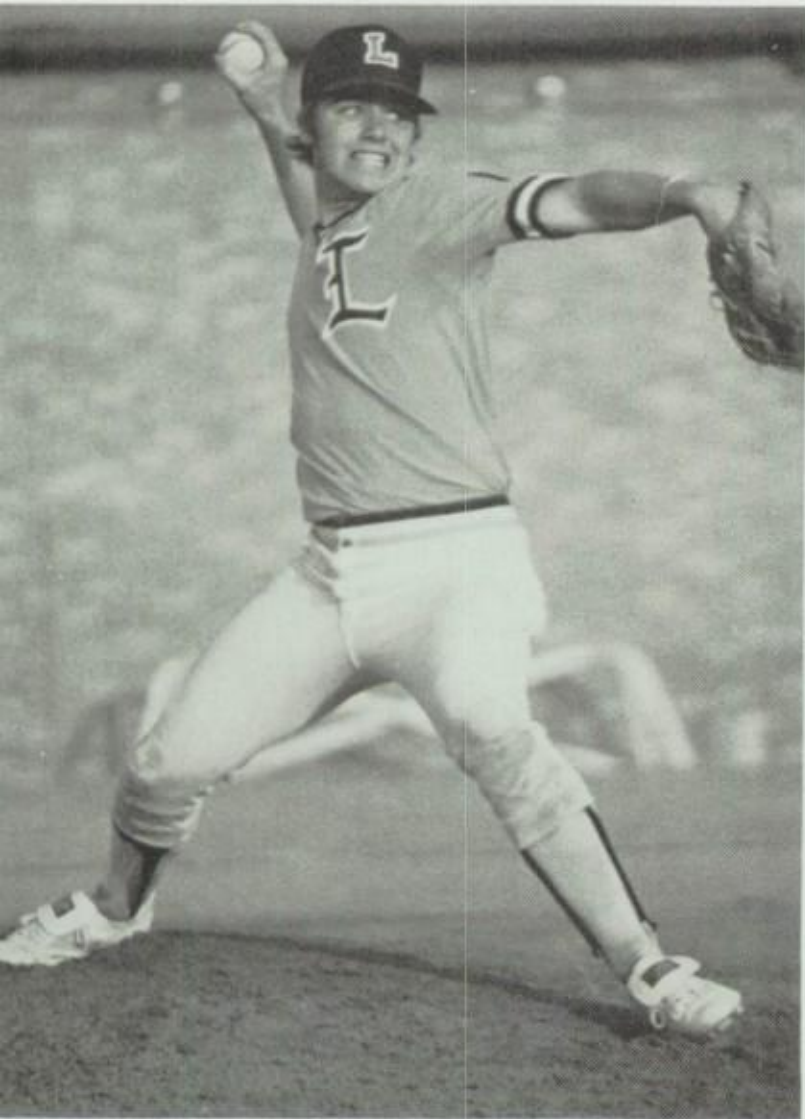

Coach Scott Harrington, S.J., fields a well-rounded ball club this year. The outfielders (Pablo "Skeeter" Vitar, Pat "Scat" Sullivan, and Ron Guerena) combine with the infielders (Dante "Sugardaddy" Robinson, Dave "Dumpy" Plotnick, Mike "Gilligan" Boehle, and Marco "Fanatic" Saenz) to become defense that promises to be the stopper of many a well-powered offense. Add to that the power of the Varsity bats and Loyola's Cubs may prove to be the team to beat in the Del Rey League this year.

TENNIS

Unexpectedly, last year's Loyola High Tennis Team lost the Del Rey League title that had been their's for almost forty years. Now under new coach Mr. Jim Padden and with much of the same Varsity team as last year, the team will work as a whole to regain the crown of the Del Rey League.

Returning lettermen for this year's squad include Seniors Rob McKay, Matt Gerlach, and Brent Borchert along with Juniors Doug Anderson, Jon Freeman, Peter Lagasse, and Jamie Slocum. Freshmen Frank Yu and Tony Smith have also earned positions on the Varsity Squad. J.V. standouts Eric Rottman, Rich Dion, Louis Moreno, and James Murphy will also help Cub tennis to be very strong. With their overwhelming pride and determination the Del Rey League Crown and possibly C.I.F. title are within reach.

GOLF

This year's golf team once again was a power in the competitive Del Rey league. Returning lettermen Mark Poulsen and Jim O'Connor along with Ken Tanigawa and Bob O'Connor served as the nucleus of the team. Their consistent low rounds along with Coach Bill Sanchez's leadership once again led the Cubs to victory on the links. The golf team's prestigious record remained strong, and at the same time the Cubs look even stronger for next year.

The Varsity Volleyball team sets out in 1984 in defense of its CIF 3A championship title, which was won — against arch-rival South Pasadena in 1983. The outlook for the season is a good one, despite the loss of most of the team to college, including All-CIF senior Bob Parr. This year's seniors Dave Rottman, Mike Lauterman, and Jamie Cleary present the team with a possible All-League potential, along with experience and skill. Coach Roger Yano brings his knowledge into his second year; sophomore Tom Parr, up from Junior Varsity, promises even more success. With luck and an injury-free season, the varsity V-Ballers should have no trouble in recapturing the league crown and proceeding to regain its CIF crown.

Coaches: Ed Castellanos, Fernie Hernandez, Victor Sisnett, Al Sanford, Glenn Harvey, Victor Harewood, Jon Dawson.

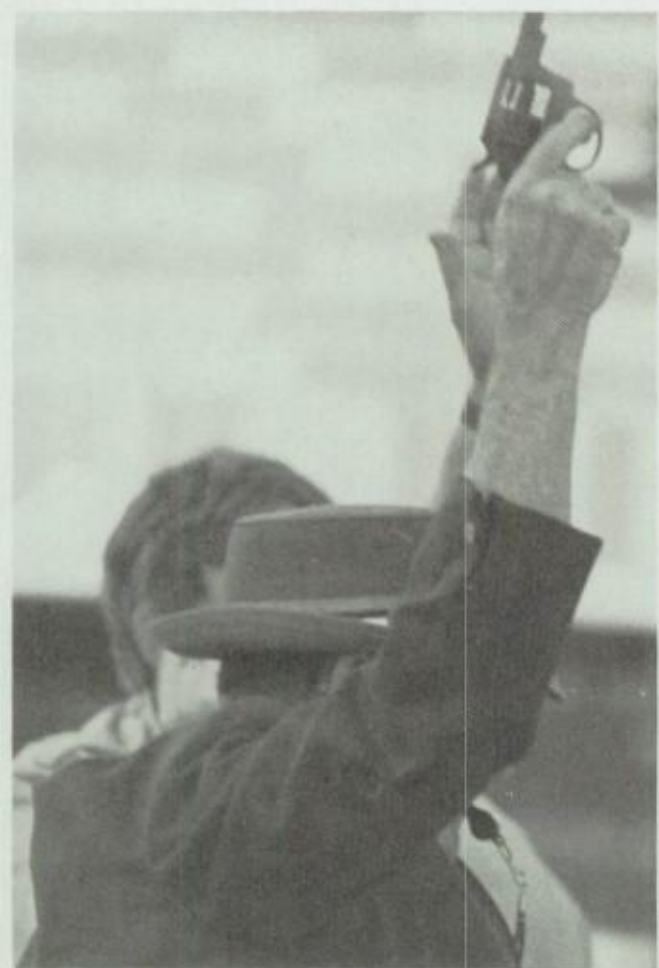

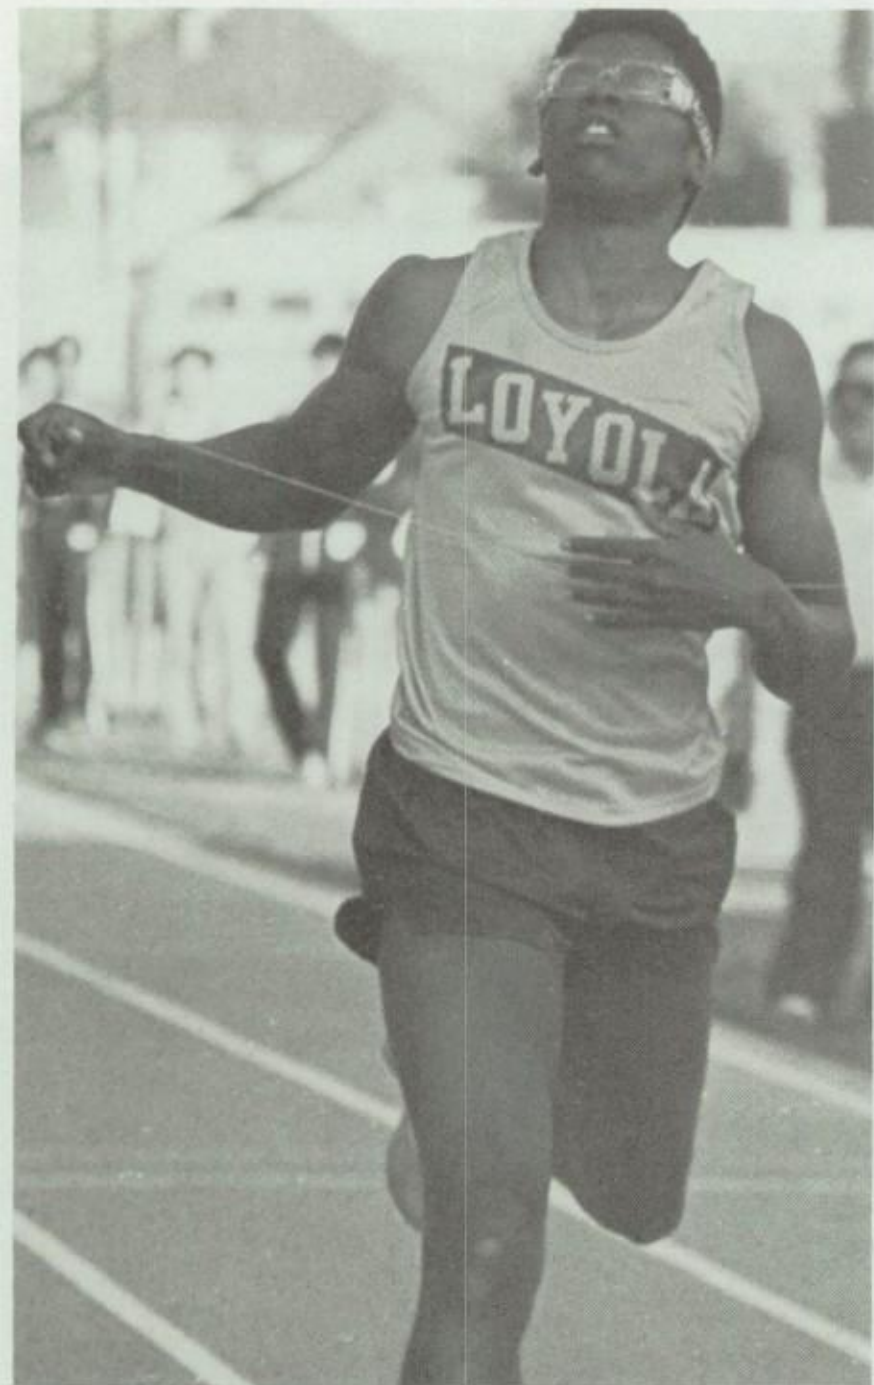

The defending Del Rey League Champions promise to match their undefeated dual meet record of last year. The Bob Smith Track and Field Complex will be graced with several returning individual league champions. The sprinters are led by 100/200m champion Bert Fuller and Richard Brown, the middle distances by league leader Brian Shields, and the long distances by Joe Nitti. The hurdle squad is paced by 110/300m hurdle champ Brendan McCracken, and the field events have a powerful squad with such greats as Greg Thornton, Mark Tilson, Martin Keller, and Kelton Alexander. Other major contributors this year will be sprinter Steve Robinson and distance runners Wayne Nitti, Chris Nelson, and Gary Puhek. The 1984 Cubs have set lofty goals, the culmination in the CIF 2A Championships and a strong State Meet showing. With the talent at their disposal, these goals become less unrealistic every day.

INTRAMURALS

The 1983-84 Intramural program featured four main sports in which all four grade levels competed. Football, volleyball, basketball, and water polo leagues were coordinated by Greg Thornton and his crew (George Cuddy, Art Tavera, Ross Shaw, Chris West, John O'Brien, and Mr. Arnold), who constructed game schedules and set up championship playoffs. Large crowds were present at both the water polo championship and the football game-of-the-year, in which the Smegheads beat the Irish Tempers 12-6 in overtime. Student involvement and support was increased this year on the strength of the competitiveness and fun that all the teams enjoyed.

Loyola Lacks Constitution

by Fernando D. Smith

In the past, the PR function has been directed chiefly toward the dissemination of information to student body persons without the aid of a fundamental element—constitutions. Large organizations such as automobile manufacturers, insurance companies, and banks possess their own constitutions outlining the responsibilities of executives, their extent of powers, and their limitations. However, we should ask ourselves,

...a constitution for the student government practical?" Let us examine the advantages of such a system. First of all, prospective candidates for student government be alerted to the responsibilities and duties of his position. Secondly, a constitution would brush the common misgivings of not

by Damian Inglin,
Associate Editor

Tony "Hey d---" Burgos, Editor-in-Chief, most holy lord, contributed to the paper by completing an Editorial page on time, a feat uncommon in Loyola journalism. Using his graphic art abilities, Tony graced the pages with "Hey Dude... It's time for Cub Sports," a cartoon series we all had to learn to love. Seldom seen, Tony is credited with being the low-keyed Loyalist Editor-in-Chief in recent history.

Nelson "The Man" Maldonado, Assistant Editor, sparked every issue with his outstanding drawings and cartoons. One masterpiece of particular note was his "Home for the Holidays" spread, for it exposed the outstanding shortcomings of prominent Loyola educators.

Mike "Rat-shed" Rasic, News Editor, follows in the illustrious footsteps of John Hubanks. His greatest strength lies in writing descriptive and mysteriously produced the best issue of the year. But then Paul is into power...

James "The Geek" Wilson, Photography Editor, spent many days alone in a darkroom. Pat Greer, we thank you for doing all the work with those chemicals. James, even though you did not always get your bylines, you will get credit in the end.

Chris "Who's He?" Charbonnet, Production Manager,... see Obituaries.

Peter "Kill A Commie" Dolan, Business Manager, flawlessly performed his multitude of tasks without complaint. In a position that in the past few years has inspired mediocrity, Peter has demonstrated his outstanding ability to get the job done. When asked about his selfless service to the Loyalist, he commented, "Well, someone's gotta carry the gun, and the buck might as well stop here."

And then there is Barnaby Crahan, the indispensable public relations tycoon. Finally, Liam Callanan, the man of a dry wit lined with cashmere.

headlines, the best of which will always be his description of the commissary: "New Food Grows."

Kevin "4 Swimmers" Lynch, Sports Editor, consistently produced an informative section... but he has a nasty fetish for irrelevant swimming pictures that we can't decipher. Kevin, in his own lackluster manner, is the pride of the Loyalist staff since he always completed his section before anyone else.

Bernardo "Burnout" Silva, Feature Editor, only snickers when asked about his section — he knows that without a certain sophomore, Liam Callanan, there would not be a feature spread.

Rick "The Dud" Mendez, Co-Feature Editor, has never shown his face around the Boarder's Quarters. Frankly, we don't know what he looks like, but his absence has helped us immensely.

Paul "Mr. Clean" Balson, Copy Editor, industriously read the articles until he realized that it didn't matter. He kicked the seniors out in January

INTER CHANGE '84

In its 12th year, Interchange has further contributed to the school's operational costs. This dinner/auction combines the parents, faculty, and students in an effort to make the Interchange a yearly success. Fr. Cabalan, S.J., Fr. MacDonald, S.J., and Fr. Ryan, S.J., are the coordinators of the Interchange.

CAMPUS MINISTRY

RETREATS

The Campus Ministry and Fr. Allender provide juniors and seniors with an opportunity to experience three-day retreats during the year. By getting away from it all, students can get in touch with themselves and relax in a spiritual atmosphere.

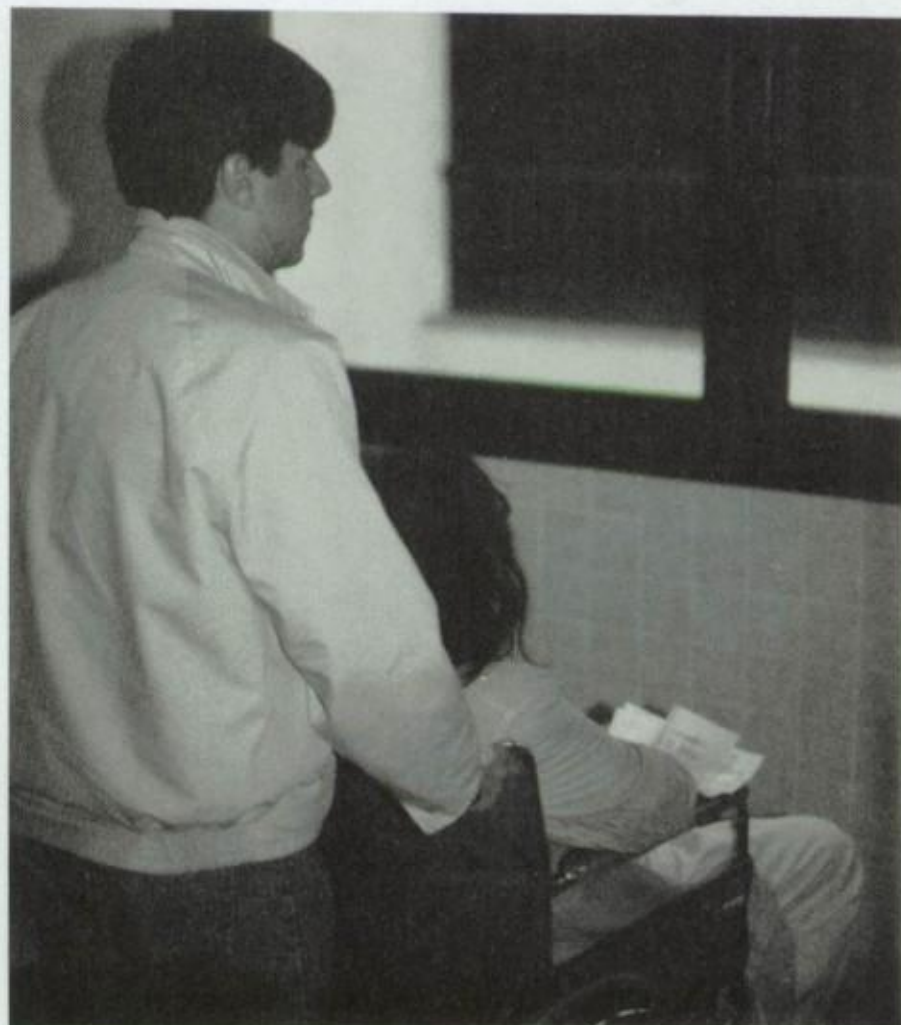

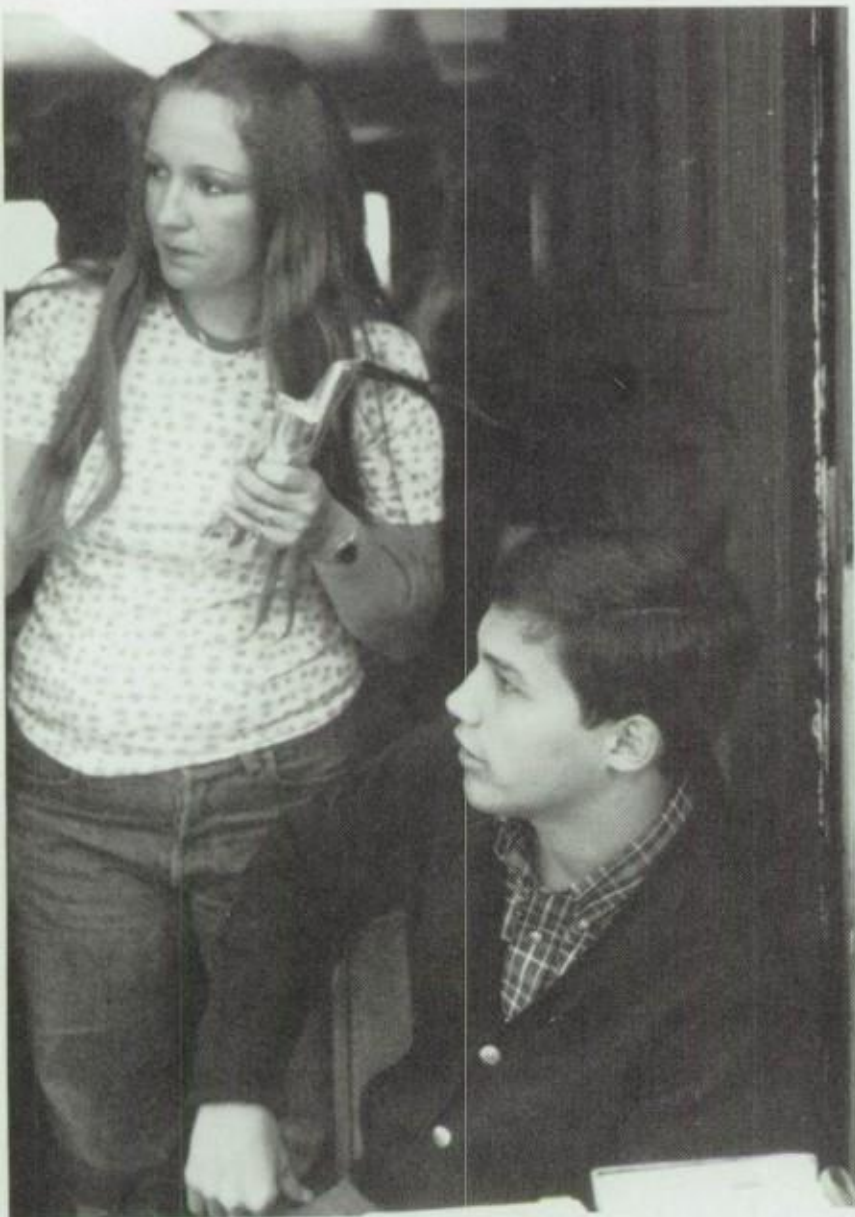

SENIOR PROJECT

In its fourth year the Senior Project again succeeded in giving the senior class a chance to get out into their community and help the poor, the sick, and the children of Los Angeles. For three weeks in January the seniors did daily service, and the period ended with a mass and slide show. The project was coordinated by Mr. Tim Coughlin.

CHRISTIAN ACTION MOVEMENT

CAM, Loyola's Christian Action Movement, presented Loyola's third CAMBOREE and the very successful Toy Drive, along with weekly tutoring and visitations to convalescent hospitals. All money and time went toward helping various needy foundations around the Los Angeles area. CAM was coordinated by Tim Coughlin and Scott Harrington, S.J. Nelson Maldonado led the board, which consisted of Ernesto Aldover, Paul Carlstroem, Allan Culty, Mike Denman, Mike Rasic, Kevin Roy, Bernie Silva, Pat Sullivan, and Mark Valdez.

I find it kind of funny,
I find it kind of sad,
The dreams in which I'm dying
Are the best I've ever had.

Forget
Your Past
It's 1984

Four years ago, the class of 1984 entered Loyola High School arm-in-arm with a new principal who was ready to take over duties from Father Charles Gagan. Both the class and the principal had something to prove — to themselves and to others. Father Gordon Bennett has always been special to the class of 1984. He has accompanied us, his first freshman class, through four years of physical change and campus development, mental growth and spiritual maturity. Therefore, the Class of 1984 would like to acknowledge and thank Father Bennett for his deep understanding, compassion, fellowship, and, above all, his leadership. He has been an example of whom we can be proud.

On the road to El Camino 1984 we ran into a few old friends to whom we wish to express our sincere gratitude and thanks.

We would like to thank our numerous photographic printers who helped us through some rough times: Edwards Photography, who kept us going with their supply of materials and photos; Glendale Camera Center for their endless color slides and prints; and Photoking Lab for coming through for us in the pinch.

Several photographers happened our way; they deserve a large bit of our success. Our very special thanks goes out to Mrs. Gury for her seemingly endless supply of great pictures, particularly in the sports section. She saved us more than a few times from the terrors of the deadlines. Mr. Gershon and Dr. O'Brien also deserve our thanks for their contributions to the sports and play photographs.

We additionally thank Mr. Frank Kozakowski for his cooperation and understanding, Bro. Robert McDermott for his usually great layout, Mr. Paul Turgeon for his help, Mr. Scott Harrington for his CAM collaboration, Mrs. Whittet and Mrs. Roswell for their continuous pep and cooperation with our work, the entire Loyalist staff with whom we shared photos, ideas, panic scares, and friendships the whole way through, Pete Dolan for his throbbing brain filled with new ideas, Martin Keller for his tactical air-to-ground expertise, and Paul Collins for his concern and support.

Above all others, we wish to thank the incredible Mr. Thomas O'Neill. His patience, total dedication, opinions and ideas, and most importantly his endless support for our beliefs have made this book what it is. He loosened the reins enough to let us run with our ideas, yet tightened the noose when we needed a little control. We all had to start from scratch; we were all new at the game. We gave a new definition to the meaning of "coming down to the wire." For his continuing loyalty to El Camino 1984, we wish to thank the Mysterious Mr. O.

It's been a long four years on el camino, the Road. As you've seen, we've traveled the highways and byways of Los Angeles, finding beginnings, hardships, friendships, and endings. There has been a time for the frivolity of youth, the novelty of a new car, the overpowering load of tests and homework, the experience found in the adult world; it is now time for us to leave our cars on the side of the Road new directions, new experiences . . .

Both of us would like to thank everyone involved with El Camino 1984. We think it has achieved what it set out to be — a book of history, memories trapped in verbal and pictorial form. Part traditional, part new and creative, this yearbook is something we are proud of- we hope you can be too.

Thanks very much to Moms and Dads- without you our joys and tribulations wouldn't quite be the same.

P.S. Toto, I don't think we're in Kansas anymore.
Apply DAP and thanks MOM.
